THREE CENTS

The General Conference

The Northfield General Conference began its eight-day series of meetings Sunday with both attendance and enthusiasm at a high level which has not been equaled for at least ten years. Dr. Robert R. Wicks, dean emeritus of Princeton University Chapel, set the pace for the conference in the opening meeting Sunday morning when the auditorium was comfortably filled with a congregation of more than 1,200, including the 400 registered delegates who are living on the campus and more than 800 guests, largely summer residents and the town's people.

Preaching on "The Only Inexhaustible Satisfaction of Life," Dean Wicks said that both religion and patriotism can be a curse to the world if they are tainted with self-righteousness. Pharisaism resulted in the crucifixion of Christ and the Spanish Inquisition. It was also responsible for the helplessness idealism which preceded and paved the way for the world wars.

He said that it is the same unyielding spirit which has produced the current stalemate between labor and management and between democracy and totalitarianism. "Why should not labor be represented on the boards of directors of our corporations and the boards of trustees of our colleges?" he asked.

The inexhaustible satisfaction of life, he concluded, is that life is never through. There is no final solution to human problems; each solution merely creates new problems. But the recognition of this fact is in itself a solution because of its promise of eternal life.

Others participating in the service included Dr. William E. Park, chairman of the conference; Dr. Carl Health Kouf, minister-elect of the First Congregational Church of Washington, and Dr. Sidney Lovett, chaplain of Yale University.

Dr. Adam Burnet, an old-time favorite, began his series of five addresses Monday night with an address on "Faith." "We must not ask faith to do what it was never meant to do," he said, "but put to work in the human soul, faith can work miracles." Dr. Burnet paid a glowing tribute to the Northfield General Conference and those responsible for its long and useful history, in particular W. R. Moody, who invited Dr. Burnet here for his first visit to America in 1931.

Two series of meetings have proved particularly popular this year. The 9:30 A. M. ministers' meetings on "Ministry to the Sick" by Dr. Russell Dicks, chaplain of the Wesley Memorial Hospital in Chicago, and the 7 P. M. round top services in charge of Dr. Kopf.

Another high spot of the confer-

Garden Club Meeting

The Garden Club held its regular meeting last Monday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Martin Vorce on Main Street. The meeting was preceded by a picnic supper and many tables were set by members and their friends.

At the business session Mr. Lawrence, the president, presided and reports were given by the chairmen of the various committees as to progress being made for the flower show which will be held at the chateau of the Northfield Hotel Tuesday and Wednesday, August 19 and 20.

The admission has been placed at 50 cents, tax included, for all over 12 years, and half price for those under 12. The judges at the flower show are Clark L. Thayer and Donald E. Ross, both of the University of Massachusetts in Amherst, and Frank J. Yetter, of Greenfield. The judging of the flowers will be Tuesday morning of the first day.

The committee in charge of the flower show upon whom the responsibility for its success rests are the members of the executive committee of the club and the chairmen of the several flower show committees. Posters will soon be displayed announcing the event.

Memorable Visit

Mrs. Maude N. Voris, whose summer home is in Mountain Park, had the privilege to entertain last week as guests family friends who represented four generations; they were Mrs. Caroline L. Baker and her daughter, Mrs. F. L. Baylis, of Jamaica, N. Y., and the latter's daughter, Mrs. C. B. Sharpe, and her son, of West Hempstead, N. Y. The group were on a motoring tour of New England and were enjoying their leisurely travel. Mrs. Voris' daughter, Mrs. John Lastedius, and her son, were at the home also visiting. Mrs. Baker is 93 years old.

Miss Alma Dunklee, of South Vernon, has been employed by Dr. F. W. Dean as the receptionist in his office.

ence for many is the chaplaincy of Dr. Lovett. Dr. Lovett conducts the devotional period in the morning and evening auditorium services and his prayers have been an important aspect in setting the high calibre of the conference.

The conference music has also been an important feature of the week. The Northfield Singers, a group of Northfield girls and Mount Hermon boys, have sung at each meeting under the direction of Albert R. Raymond, director of music of the Northfield schools, with Mr. Carlton W. L'Hommiedieu, music department head at Mount Hermon, as organist.

Museum Open Free

The museum of the Historical Society on Pine Street will be open two days this month with free admission to the general public. The dates will be Sunday, August 10, and Sunday, August 24, from 2 to 5 o'clock each afternoon.

There is much to be seen at the museum and two hours can be spent there profitably studying the various exhibits. The curator, Joseph R. Colton, will be present with a welcome committee to explain the articles shown. Among the new exhibits will be a one-horse shay, belonging years ago to Dr. Elijah Stratton, a physician and surgeon in this community and given by Murray Hammond, of Northfield Farms, whose property formerly belonged to Dr. Stratton. The one-horse shay is a two-wheeled carriage with the body hung on straps and with wheels five feet in diameter.

Dr. Stratton was a native of this town, born in 1811, educated at Dartmouth and enjoyed his practice here from 1840 to 1875. Dr. Stratton's great grandparents were the great great grandparents of Dwight L. Moody.

The doctor's home, which he built, is now the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Martin E. Vorce, on Main Street, and the Hammond place was his farm. The town history, "The Puritan Outpost," contain a biography of Dr. Stratton. Now the visitor can see his one-horse shay.

Saturday, August 16, will be Old Home Day in Warwick and many from this town will be in attendance. Congressman John W. Heseltin will be the speaker.

Ridge Annual Meeting

The annual meeting of the Rustic Ridge Association, Inc., will be held Tuesday afternoon, August 12, at the home of Miss Minnie Erb on Ledge-way. A large attendance of members, both active and associate, with their guests, are expected to attend. There will be an important business session presided over by Rev. Dr. A. L. Berger, the president, and reports will be received from all committees, with an election of officers and directors.

Nearly all cottages of the summer colony are now occupied and there is a demand by several persons to purchase. Woodruff Way is being improved gradually by the town as a public road and all the private roads are receiving attention. Road signs and direction signs are being made and will soon be in position.

The association finds itself in a good financial position with a reserve to meet any unusual disaster caused by wind, rain or winter storms. Many new summer residents will be introduced at this meeting and a social hour with refreshments will follow.

It's A Daughter

When Donald and Lois Booth, of the Youth Hostel, left Northfield to make their home in Littleton and undertake hostel activity in Boston, we felt sure we would hear from them again, and we have. An announcement is made of a daughter, Heather Ann Booth, with reddish blond hair and blue eyes, weighing 8 lbs. 7 1/4 ozs., on Tuesday, July 22. Mrs. Booth is doing well and will soon be home from the hospital. Greetings from friends and congratulations.

Bolton Reunion

The annual reunion of the Bolton family was held at the old Bolton homestead in Ashuelot last Sunday. The home is occupied by George Bolton and his sister, Mrs. Mary E. Davis. Dinner was served at noon with 57 present.

The business meeting was conducted by Arthur Bolton, president, with Miss Barbara Bolton, secretary-treasurer, reading several letters from those unable to attend. Edward Bolton was elected president, Richard Holbrook, vice-president; Mrs. Edward Bolton, secretary-treasurer. The dinner committee: Mrs. Arthur Bolton, chairman; Mrs. Fred Bolton and Mrs. Kenneth Bolton; entertainment committee, Miss Lucile Bolton and Miss Hope Bolton; nominating committee, Mrs. Erwin Severance and Mrs. Clifford Bolton.

A most interesting program was given for entertainment and a social time followed.

Mrs. Lena Bolton, 82, was the oldest and Leslie Ann Gaines, 2 months, was the youngest.

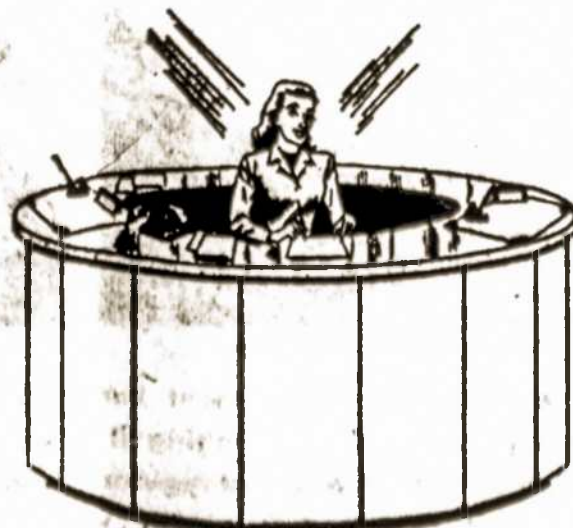

The directors and committee chairmen of the Rustic Ridge Association met at the home of Reverend and Mrs. W. H. DesJardins last Tuesday afternoon to consider a program for the annual meeting and arrange for the same.

Members of the Friendly Class of the Congregational Church will be the Guests of Mrs. J. Lee Bolton at her home in Mountain Park Monday evening, September 15.

Rev. and Mrs. J. C. Eason, of Stamford, N. Y., are visiting at the home of her sister, Miss Lucy Jackson, on Rustic Ridge.

Black-Coutu

In the Congregational Church Saturday afternoon, August 2, Miss Jean Coutu, daughter of Mrs. and Mr. George Coutu, of Irving, and William John Black, son of Mrs. Helen C. Black, of this town, were married in a double ring service with Rev. Joseph Reeves officiating. The church was decorated with palms and gladioli.

Mrs. Sacca Black was matron of honor; Mrs. Phyllis Hachett and Mrs. Hazel MacDonald, bridesmaids. George A. Coutu, Jr., was best man and Andrew MacDonald and Watson Black ushered. The bride was given in marriage by her father.

The bride wore white lace over satin with train and sweetheart neckline with seed pearl trimming, fingertip veil and coronet of seed pearls. Her bouquet was of white roses and sweet peas.

The matron of honor wore yellow shantung and carried blue sweet peas and yellow roses. Mrs. Hachett wore pink shantung and carried red sweet peas and roses. Mrs. Hazel MacDonald wore blue shantung and carried yellow sweet peas and roses.

Following the ceremony there was a reception in the vestry. In the receiving line were the bride and bridegroom and their mothers.

Following the reception the couple left on a wedding trip and after August 15 will reside in Erving.

Occupies Her Cottage

Miss Alice Lane, of New York city, will occupy her cottage, Oakami Lodge, Pine Road, Rustic Ridge, during August and will have as guests her sister, Mrs. Elmer B. Wight, and a friend, Miss Edith Laver, both of Cleveland, Ohio. Mrs. Wight has had an active interest in Garden Club work and is an expert on flower arrangement. Miss Laver is associated with Western Reserve University.

Miss Lane plans to change the name of her cottage to "Wood Winds." It was the former summer home of the Wisdom family.

Aldrich-Bevis

Beverly Florence Bevis, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Bevis, of Keene, N. H., and Alfred Dennis Aldrich, of West Northfield, were married in the Congregational Church Saturday morning, August 2, by Rev. Joseph Reeves, minister.

The bride was attended by Mrs. Mildred Aldrich, sister-in-law of the bridegroom, as matron of honor. The best man was Stanley Aldrich, brother of the bridegroom.

The bride wore a gown of white eyelet with train, fingertip veil and corsage of white roses and sweet peas. The matron of honor wore a blue crepe gown with corsage of white roses and sweet peas.

The reception followed immediately after the ceremony at the home of the bridegroom.

The couple will spend a few weeks in New York and return to live at the home of his parents until they find a home.

The bride attended the normal school in Keene. During World War II she was in Georgia as a WAC.

The bridegroom attended the Northfield High School. He was a corporal and was wounded while in Europe. He has the Bronze Star, Purple Heart and other medals.

In case of rain on Friday the fair as well as the supper of the Woman's Guild of the Congregational Church will be held in the vestry instead of on the lawn as announced by the bulletins.

The 8-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Willis Parker entertained his friends with a birthday party last Saturday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. John S. Marsh and family, formerly missionaries in Africa, are occupying Mountain View Cottage in Mountain Park.

In Holy Trinity Church in Greenfield on Tuesday, August 5, Miss Faustine E. Marino, of Turners Falls, and Joseph J. Batynski, of this town, were married by Rev. James Casey. They will reside in Greenfield.

Enjoyed His Vacation

When William D. Miller, our local plumber and hardware merchant, takes a vacation he really enjoys one and its experiences of which he had many. He went to Colorado to visit his son Kenneth making the journey by plane, a new venture for him, but the story of his sojourn and travels about the great state of Colorado is interesting. He went to see the former camps of the forty-niners and the many abandoned mines. He was at the throttle of an engine in one place and in another rode the bucking broncho and has the photographs to prove it. But the fact remains that the engine was stalled and abandoned years ago and he couldn't move it; the broncho was a dead one and stuffed for the benefit of tourists. So even in far off Colorado there is much to be seen and enjoyed even in out-of-the-way places.

Attends In New York

Mrs. Monroe Smith, of the American Youth Hostel, was a guest of the World People's Congress at a press conference and farewell gathering in the coral room at the Hotel Astor in New York last Monday evening when shortly after midnight a group flew by air from New York to the New Mexico desert to mark the second anniversary of the destruction of Hiroshima. The World People's Congress is a new movement making elaborate plans for a brotherhood mobilization in furthering peace efforts and much will be heard from it in the future days.

Miss Phyllis Ruhl was tendered a shower last Friday evening at the home of Mrs. Clifford Bolton on Birnam Road by Miss Barbara Bolton and Miss Eleanor Severance. Some forty guests were invited. The home was decorated with colored paper streamers and flowers and all enjoyed a pleasant evening with refreshments served. Miss Ruhl will be married to Sidney Given, Jr., at Mount Hermon chapel on Sunday, August 17.

George Howard Coxon

The death of George Howard Coxon, of Trenton, N. J., a summer resident of this town for the past twenty years, took place on Thursday, July 17, at the home of his daughter, Mrs. W. H. Bollman, at Lancaster, Pa. He had been ill for several months.

Mr. Coxon will be remembered by many friends because of his annual visit at the home of Reverend and Mrs. W. H. Bollman on West Lane, Rustic Ridge.

Mr. Coxon was a retired manufacturer of pottery and fine china, having succeeded his father in the business and whose name was well known as the originator in this country of "Lennox china." His plants were in Trenton and New Brunswick where he also maintained his home. He had been a leader in industry.

Surviving are two daughters, Mrs. Bollman, and Mrs. Theodore Herman, of California. Mr. Coxon enjoyed his visits to Northfield and was in love with the beautiful location and that of the surrounding country.

Quite a number of visitors from this town are stopping at the Salt Box on the Bernardston Road to Greenfield, so delightfully situated for refreshment. A decided social atmosphere prevails.

Lieut. Com. and Mrs. Francis M. Hickey and family, of New York, are located in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Brown on Birnam Road for the summer.

Mrs. Richard Neuendorffer and child who have been visiting at the home of her mother, Mrs. Robert Moore, in Mountain Park, has left to join her husband in New Orleans. Mrs. Moore accompanied her for a short stay at her home in Philadelphia.

Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Kairott, of Hartford, recently visited their daughter, Mrs. Harold Briesmaster, of Valley Vista Inn, for a short stay. Mrs. Briesmaster's sister, Mrs. H. Wesley Sargent, of Broad Brook, Conn., with her two children, were also recent visitors.

Miss Natalie Gowan, our town nurse, is on vacation for a month and Mrs. John Feld, of Warwick Ave., will substitute for her. Mrs. Field's telephone number is 894.

Fairs Are Announced

The usual number of fairs will again be held this year and September is the month. Nearly every fair promises to be bigger and better and the farmers will have to take days off if they expect to attend. The fair of the Franklin County Agricultural Society at Greenfield will be held Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, September 8, 9 and 10. The Eastern States Exposition at Springfield will be September 14-20. Other fairs in this vicinity are Cummington, August 22-24; Northampton, August 31-September 6; Great Barrington, September 21-28.
